ASTORIA.

The City of Astoria has, beyond all doubt, the most unique and beautiful location of any place in the State of Oregon. It is built upon a rugged peninsula, flanked on the north and south by two magnificent bays: the principal waterway on the north being the majestic Columbia river, at its grandest amplification in confluence with the mighty Pacific. A junction, in a commercial sense, absolutely incomparable, and which must, at some propitious time, make this city one of the marine metropoli of the Western World. As a scenic spot, it is wonderfully charming, the lofty hills and mountains of the Oregon and Washington shores constituting a background for one of the broadest and loveliest waterscapes in existence.

Aside from its beauty, the location held by Astoria is fraught with tremendous commercial possibilities that must, in the essential development of the State, and the Northwest, accrue here, in obedience to every rule of business expansion and the exploitation of the real advantages demanded in the intercourse and interchange of the world's thought and material abundance. It is the left hand to Portland's right hand of power and influence, and always will be. Nothing but annihilation can abate the future significance and value of Astoria, as an immense feature in the commercial career of the newly awakened far West of America.

At the very gateway of the enormous valley of the Columbia, with its half-million square miles of benificent soil and multifarious products of mill, factory, shop and stream, it is, and must continue to be, the natural entrepot for the world's business, and as naturally grow with the inevitable increase that follows upon development of so rich a section. Already it is one of the commanding centers of the salmon industries of the world and a lumber-milling point of extraordinary scope and value, beside the varied and prolific agricultural wealth that finds its way to the markets of the earth from the wonderful valleys behind this depot. The chief emanations are at present the salmon product, already estimated at nearly three millions of dollars per annum, and the lumber which goes hence at the rate of seventy-five billions of feet during the year.

Among the rapidly advancing interests of Astoria and her contributory territory is that of dairying, for which, in the best technical relation, the acres of Clatsop County and the adjacent country are peculiarly adapted, and are being gradually absorbed in this rich and prosperous trade. Climatic conditions are most happily propitious for the perfect development of this business and the hills and valleys all about here teem with nutritious and abundant grasses, the year round, to the fullest evolvment of the highest grades of butter and cheese in the whole country.

One of the wonders of this section is the equable climate that prevails here at all seasons of the year. No extreme of heat or cold is ever recorded at Astoria, and for this reason it is among the most popular of the Summer resorts of the Upper Coast; the sunshine being tempered always to the seeker after leisurely comfort, and the cold of Winter never interferes with business nor pleasure, but rather contributes to the pursuit of either with its rare moderateness.

As a city, with 15,000 people, depending upon her own advancement and aiding it in all ways, Astoria has all the modern equipment that may contribute to her status as a first-class, habitable, comfortable, convenient and pleasant dwelling place, for the man of industry, of affairs, of leisure, of fixed pursuit; the student, the producer, the traveler, the merchant, the millman, the trained fisherman, the worker generally, all find what they seek and admire and need, and she enjoys her full share of current prosperity with the neighboring cities of the Northwest, and her best boast in the year 1906 is that she has fewer idle people within her borders than any community on the Pacific Coast.

In a municipal sense she is well equipped with all the appurtenances of civilized life, such as all phases of electrical service in commercial usage; a magnificent public school system, backed by a group of private schools, both denominational and non-sectarian; one of the amplest, and purest public supplies of water between Mexico and Alaska, the property of the city; handsome and commodious churches of all denominations; fraternal groups covering the entire roster of organic brotherhoods; rail and steamer connection with the whole wide world; two well-appointed daily newspapers, with telegraphic news service; rapid transit to all outlying resorts and points of interest; magnificent fields for the greater sports of hunting and fishing, and all the collateral pleasures incident thereto.

Astoria suffers nothing by contrast with any community of the great West, in appointments, civil, educational, ethical and industrial, and her doors swing wide with welcome for the home-seeker and business man and the stranger in quest of all things that go to make for the home, the resort, and the market.

ACADEMY of the HOLY NAMES

FOR GIRLS AND YOUNG WOMEN

CONDUCTED BY THE

Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary

FRANKLIN AVENUE, NORTHEAST CORNER SIXTEENTH STREET

ASTORIA, OREGON

The object of this institution, like all other sister Academies throughout the State, is to impart to young ladies a Christian education, solid, useful and cultured; as "that life is best which is-ues from the highest knowledge and purest virtue."

The moral and intellectual improvement of the pupils is attended to with the greatest solicitude, and the most devoted attention paid to their domestic comfort. Although the pupils are, at all hours, under the watchful care and government of their teachers, the discipline of the school is mild and parental.

All interference with the convictions of non-Catholics is carefully avoided. Good order, however, requires that all should conform to the general external regulations of the Academy.

Students are examined on entering the Institution and classified according to their proficiency.

Students are received at any time during the year, their term dating from their entry.

CATHLAMET.

The county seat of Wahkiakum County, Wash., situated on the Columbia river, 75 miles n w of Portland and 30 miles east of Astoria. Principal industries are logging and fishing. A large cannery is situated here operated by The Warren Packing Company. There are three general stores, one hotel. The Columbia River Sun, edited by George F Hanigan, is an excellent sheet, also a first-class advertising medium. Cathlamet has a Congregational church. All river steamers land here. Mail daily.

CHINOOK.

Situated on Baker's Bay opposite the mouth of the Columbia river, in Pacific county, Wash., eight miles northwest of Astoria, from which it is reached three times a week by steamer. It is a thriving and beautiful town of energetic people. Its population including surrounding settlements, is about 800. The public spirit of the citizens is shown by the manner in which they support the local paper, the Chinook Observer, published by Hibbert & Payne. It is safe to say 95 per cent of the entire population are subscribers. The principal industry is salmon fishing. It is here that a large per cent of the Royal Chinook salmon are caught. There are two churches, Methodist and Swedish Lutheran, a school employing three teachers, a fish hatchery operated by the state, several large mercantile stores, the principal one of which is conducted by S. J. Jones, four saloons, owned by F O Gaither, Julius Jensen, Agathon Pearson, and Swen Erickson. Some of the staunchest fishing boats on the river are built here by Leander Leback. No policeman or City Jail. When a street needs repairing, a sidewalk to be built or any improvement needed by the community every one turns out and does his share. It is one of the many delightful summer resorts, about the mouth of the Columbia. Mr J E Dalton is Justice of the Peace and also writes fire insurance. Stage daily to Ilwaco, 8 miles distant. Long distance telephone. Mrs. Ellen T Barrows, postmaster.

ILWACO.

Population 1000. Pacific County, Washington. An incorporated town of the fourth-class, on Baker's Bay, an arm of the Columbia river, $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles northwest and above the mouth of the river; $11\frac{1}{2}$ miles south of Sea View; 4 miles from Long Beach, the great northwest seaside summer resort, and 50 miles southwest of South Bend, the county seat. Astoria, Ore., is the main and most convenient banking point owing to daily connections and transportation by the steamer Naheotta of the I R & N Co's line.
Ilwaco is the southern terminus of the I R & N Co's lines, running northward to Nahcotta on Willapa Harbor, and there connecting with the steamboat line to South Bend daily during the year, except Sunday during the winter months. Ilwaco has two churehes, namely, the First M E and the First Presbyterian, with auxiliary societies. The various fraternal orders erected in 1897 a hall at a cost of over $6000. It has town hall, a large public school, employing five teachers. The town has one weekly newspaper, the Pacific Journal, which has an extensive circulation along the beach, and is equipped with a modern up-to-date job office. It is owned and edited by Mr C C Clinton; also a sawmill and a large salmon cannery. The principal industry is salmon fishing but during the last two years, owing to the great demand for spruce timber for paper making, several logging outfits have been established and operate the whole year. There is a daily stage to Chinook, 8 miles distant, fare 50 cents, also telephone connections with all points; express, Pacific. Ilwaco was named after the old resident Chinook chief, Elwaco, the change in the first letter of the name being made when it was first made a government postoffice. Owing to its being the port and shipping outlet to the North Beach and Willapa Harbor localities, together with the seaside resort, it is, with its local industries and prospects, becoming yearly of more importance. Within the last year a fine plank road has been built to the military reservation and thence by the government to Fort Canby and North Head lighthouse, making Ilwaco one of the most desirable resorts in the United States. The Bear River Mountains, about 8 miles to the east, with their numerous streams, afford fine hunting and fishing, and the summer season offers the most enjoyable climate in the world. The leading business firms of Ilwaco are Grable & Collings, who conduct one of the leading grocery stores, they also handle flour and feed, school books. J. A. Howerton, who has a large stock of furniture, hardware, paints, wallpaper, farm implements and wagons. Miles A. Heath does an extensive plumbing and sheet metal business and repairs bicycles, automobiles, etc. Town officials: A J Collings, mayor; J A Howerton, clerk; Benjamin Wise, treasurer; Emerson Heath, marshal; R A Hawkins, E F Woods, Erick Hilly, George Grable, W B Hawkins, councilmen.

SEASIDE.

Loeated on Clatsop Beach, at the mouth of the Ohanna and Neeanieum rivers, also the western terminus of the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad. It has a population during the winter of 1000. During the summer from 5000 to 10,000 people throng the beach at this popular little city. It has three hotels open the year around and numerous summer hotels and boarding houses, Western Union telegraph, long distancee telephone, with four trains in and four out each day.

As a eommercial point it is a busy little city, having a saw mill and door faactory operated by the Seaside Spruee Lumber Co, employing upwards of 200 men; the supply of spruee timber being almost inexhaustible; a weekly newspaper, The Seaside Signal, an up-to-date paper with a fully equipped job offee, published by the Seaside Publishing Company, of which R M Watson is editor. There are three churches found here, viz: Methodist, Roman Catholie and Episeopal. A good school, employing four teachers.

RECREATION—Both rivers furnish excellent trout fishing, duck hunting and boating. Clam digging on the beach is popular.

Seaside has a climate distinctively its own. The average temperature during summer 85 degrees and during the winter months it rarely goes below 36 degrees, making it a most delightful place the entire year, and it is fast becoming a refuge from the severe winters of colder states.

The most pretentious hotel is the Hotel Moore, which is situated on the beach overlooking the ocean. This, under the management of Mr Dan J Moore of Portland, has become famous. It is open during the entire year and maintains a free bus to all trains.

Among the leading business firms of Seaside are to be found the following: Mr B W Otto who has a large general store in which can be found a full line of general merchandise, also groceries, table supplies and hardware: Mrs Olive McGuire is proprietress of The McGuire, located within two blocks of the depot and within five minutes' walk of the beach. Mrs J A McCollum, proprietor of The Delmo Cafe, makes a specialty of serving dainty meals at moderate prices. Lewis & Co, druggists, will compound your prescription day or night, they also carry a full and complete stock of books, stationery, cigars, candies and novelties. Mr J W Conn, propr of the Conn Drug Co, has a fine and up-to-date new store, being one of the neatest drug stores on the North Pacific Coast, they are prepared to furnish their customers with everything sold in that line, prescription work a specialty. At N Remillard's will be found books, stationery and souvenir shells. Miss Mabel A Steabb is the postmaster. Dr W E Lewis is the leading physician and surgeon. Mr Rex A Price, proprietor of The New Market, maintains markets on both sides of the river and supplies the best of meats, also game and fish in season. Seaside is unique in that it consists of two separate municipalities, the river being the dividing line.

SKAMOKAWA.

Situated on the north bank of the Columbia river in Wahkiakum County, Wash., 80 miles from Portland and 23 from Astoria. The principal industries are farming and fishing. There is located here a cannery, two large shingle mills, a creamery turning out from 30,000 to 40,000 rolls of butter annually, a logging railroad which cost $80,000. This is the headquarters for some of the principal seiners on the river. Three boats touch here twice daily. It has general stores and hotels; a first-class newsy newspaper, The Skamokawa Eagle, is published here, S G Williams is the proprietor and editor. Four mails daily. Population 400.
